Creation Vacations: Minnesota

March 20, 7:30 PM, Totino Fine Arts Room F2128, Univ. of Northwestern, 3003 N Snelling, Roseville

Minnesota- from the North Shore, to the limestone caves of southeastern MN to the glacial features found around the state, how does Minnesota fit into the biblical timeline? Where did the fountains of the deep burst forth at the beginning of Noah's Flood, was it here in Minnesota? Where did all the limestone for the caves come from? Why do I find fossilized sea creatures in the Twin Cities? How do Lake Superior agates fit into the Noah's Flood? These and more will be answered as we view Minnesota's geology from a biblical perspective.

Julie Von Vett is back with another in her series of vacations with a biblical point of view.

All Meetings are free and open to the public, an offering will be accepted.

Have you considered...

...that it does not take a long time for things to petrify? In a mining museum in Northern Minnesota visitors are surprised to see a sign next to some candlesticks, "petrified candles". These hard as rock candlesticks were found in an underground mine. How could wax candles become petrified? Up until WW2 the mines were dug underground, then they became open pit mines. As the miners were digging these open pits, they would come across the old shafts which contained past mining items. Candlesticks were one such item. Weekly rations of 5-6 candlesticks were given to each miner. He would attach one to his helmet and stash the others. Many of the underground mines were wet and had to be pumped.

After WW2 the underground mines were closed; pumps were turned off and many of the mines became flooded with water. Some of the candlesticks were found to be petrified. How did they become petrified? Mineralized waters saturated the soft wax candles turning them into rocks. Does it take millions of years to petrify as commonly believed? No just the right conditions. The Minnesota Museum of Mining in Chisholm, MN have the candles on display.

Creation Science Writing Contest

TCCSA offers a contest to all K-12 students. Rules are listed at <http://tccsa.tc/archives/contest/index.html>. All entries must be received by May 15 to qualify. Another contest for students age 11-18 is linked at the above web site that closes on April 30.

Our goal is to encourage students to use their God-given talents in writing and to sharpen those talents so they can be used for His glory.

TCCSA Programs on the Web

The January and February 2018 programs are now on YouTube. Go to the tccsa.tc web site and click on the YouTube link to find all current programs listed. Subscribe to get updates as programs are added. When we get 100 subscribers, we can create a custom URL, which will make it easier to drive traffic to the channel. If 1/3rd of the people receiving this newsletter subscribe we will have enough. DVD's will still be available as well.

TCCSA's STATEMENT OF BELIEF

We believe in God: The Father, Son and Holy Spirit. We believe that the Bible is the inspired Word of God, and that all of its assertions are historically and scientifically true in the original autographs; this means that the account of origins in Genesis is a factual presentation of actual historical truths. We believe that the origin of matter and all basic types of living things, including man, came about through direct creative acts of God during the six-day creation week described in Genesis. Whatever biological changes have occurred since the creation week have accomplished only changes within the created kinds. We believe that the great flood described in Genesis, commonly referred to as the Noachian Flood, was an historic event, world-wide in extent and effect. We accept the account of the special creation of Adam and Eve as the first man and woman. Their subsequent fall into sin, by disobedience of God's direct command, is the basis for our belief in the necessity of a Savior for all mankind. Therefore, we believe that Jesus Christ is our Lord and only Savior and that personal faith in Him is necessary for salvation.
