

Maribel 2014

I used to think I knew it all,

Which seems funny now.

In younger days, I thought I had life figured out somehow.

Yet all along you understood far more than I could see,

As you offered patient guidance leaving choices up to me.

You'd cheer for my successes with deep and honest pride,

And when I made mistakes you'd always say

"I'm glad you tried."

And though I have still more to learn,

One thing I know is true,

I'm more than blessed to have you in my life.
