

Speaker: Helmut Welke, MS is a recently retired engineering manager for a Fortune 200 company. He holds BS & MS degrees from the University of Illinois (Urbana) and was named a 'Fellow' by his engineering society. He is a certified engineering manager and has held engineering assignments in several locations in the US and in Europe. He is also the founder and president of the Quad-City Creation Science Association, a member of the Creation Research Society and a speaker for Logos Research Associates.