Viking Site Excavations

Orval Friedrich

Tuesday, March 19, 1996, 7:30 p.m. Totino Fine Arts Center, Rm 115, Northwestern College, Roseville

Mr. Orval Friedrich was raised in Elma, Iowa where he now lives. He graduated from the University of Iowa in Ames, and became a soil scientist. While studying soils in Minnesota it became clear his training in evolution did not explain what he found. He left his profession to attend Free Lutheran Seminary in Fergus Falls and Luther Seminary in St. Paul. He taught in Iowa and Texas, and Pastored in Iowa and Missouri before retiring to Elma. He has uncovered and studied Viking artifacts in several states, including Minnesota and Iowa, showing Vikings were here before Columbus. His books Early Vikings and the Ice Age published in 1984 and Early Vikings and the New World in 1995, as well as video taped lectures are available.

Editor's Note

I would like to thank my daughters Elizabeth, Rebecca and Caroline (now 12, 10, and 8) for their terrific help in preparing the Bulletin over the past two years. They have done a very good job of folding and labeling. Charlotte, our youngest daughter (now 6), has also helped.

Thank you, too, to all who have contributed material for articles, and for those who have helped on one or more special occasions in getting the Bulletin out.

May the Lord bless Dave Johnson in his new role as Editor and mailer.
