Icons of Evolution

7:30 PM, July 17, 2007, Room 116, Totino Fine Arts Center, Northwestern College

When asked to list the evidence for Darwinian evolution, most people--including most biologists--give the same set of examples, because all of them learned biology from the same few textbooks. The most common examples:

*chemical building-blocks of living cells created in a flask; *the evolutionary tree of life; *similar bone structures in many creatures; *drawings of similarities in embryos; *archaeopteryx; *peppered moths; *Darwin's finches on the Galapagos Islands; *fruit flies with genetic mutations; *a branching-tree pattern of horse fossils; and *drawings of ape-like creatures evolving into humans, showing that we are just animals and that our existence is merely a by-product of purposeless natural causes.

These examples are so frequently used as evidence for Darwin's theory that most of them have been called "icons" of evolution. Yet all of them, in one way or another, misrepresent the truth.

This video is based on the book by Jonathan Wells. Using video, animation and personal interviews with scientists, this program will show you some of the fallacies of evolution. Copies of this and other DVD's and books will be available for purchase at the meeting. Bring the whole family.

All meetings are free and open to the public, an offering will be accepted.

Tree transpiration. Have you considered

.... on a hot, summer day how one large tree can pump over 1,000 gallons of water from its roots to its leaves. How is this possible? The hot sun causes water to evaporate from the leaves. Because water likes to "stick together," this pulls the water up the tree like a drinking straw. This water can move up to 25 miles per hour. Ninety percent of the water is transpired in this way, while only 2% is used for photosynthesis. Literally tons of water are taken from the soil and released into the air each day. This is an amazing system involving capillary flow, osmosis and vacuum pressure. All this happens in total silence! This truly is an example of God's engineering excellence!

... stop and consider God's wonders. Job 37:14

Essay Contest

The Trinity Foundation's Third Annual Christian Worldview Essay Contest is underway.

The Prizes are big: $3,000 for First Place; $2,000 for Second Place; and $1,000 for Third.

Entrants, who must be between the ages of 17 and 23, must read Dr. Gordon Clark's book, A Christian Philosophy of Education, and write an essay about it. The essays are due September 1, 2007. Full Contest rules are available at

TCCSA's STATEMENT OF BELIEF

We believe in God: The Father, Son and Holy Spirit. We believe that the Bible is the inspired Word of God, and that all of its assertions are historically and scientifically true in the original autographs; this means that the account of origins in Genesis is a factual presentation of actual historical truths.

We believe that the origin of matter and all basic types of living things, including man, came about through direct creative acts of God during the six-day creation week described in Genesis. Whatever biological changes have occurred since the creation week have accomplished only changes within the created kinds.

We believe that the great flood described in Genesis, commonly referred to as the Noachian Flood, was an historic event, world-wide in extent and effect.

We accept the account of the special creation of Adam and Eve as the first man and woman. Their subsequent fall into sin, by disobedience of God's direct command, is the basis for our belief in the necessity of a Savior for all mankind.

Therefore, we believe that Jesus Christ is our Lord and only Savior and that personal faith in Him is necessary for salvation.

A Mail-Order Creation library is preparing to re-open. They plan to use CD's and DVD's rather than tapes to save postage. They need volunteers and tax-deductible contributions to make it happen.
