The Science of the Flood: And Why We Care

7:30 PM, April 17, 2012, Nazareth Hall Chapel, Northwestern College, Roseville

Is a worldwide flood even possible? Is it supported by scientific evidence? And what about the ark and its cargo of animals. Could it really be true? And after all, isn't this an unnecessarily divisive issue that the church ought to ignore to avoid ridicule?

There is actually powerful evidence that the ruling paradigms of geology are not only wrong but have never been tested experimentally. When actual experimental work was done that falsified them, it has been ignored or dismissed out of hand.

Dr. Ross Olson will be presenting and the whole family should find this of interest.

All Meetings are free and open to the public, an offering will be accepted.

Have you considered...

...water and wind gaps? They are fairly common and found worldwide, yet how they were formed is a mystery to many scientists. A wind or water gap is a notch in the upper part of a mountain ridge. The notch is formed by erosion, not from faulting. The Sweetwater River flows through a granite ridge in central Wyoming, how did the river cut a channel some 330 foot deep? The deepest water gaps in the world are in the Himalayas. One water gap on the Arun River is 4 miles deep and 13 miles wide. Gaps here and around the world cut through solid rock.

How does a river cut through a mountain ridge? Put on your Biblical glasses and view these gaps with the Genesis Flood in mind. Water gaps were formed from channelized flood waters as it rushed off the continents and into the oceans. During the late Flood, the waters could have flowed perpendicular to the ridge. These energetic waters would have cut gaps directly through stationary or rising ridges. Once an initial notch was formed, the waters would begin to channelize and speed through the notch, forming the gap we see today. All over the world we find water and wind gaps, but of course we would, the Flood was a powerful, world-wide event!

...stop and consider God's wonders. Job 37:14

TCCSA's STATEMENT OF BELIEF
 We believe in God: The Father, Son and Holy Spirit. We believe that the Bible is the inspired Word of God, and that all of its assertions are historically and scientifically true in the original autographs; this means that the account of origins in Genesis is a factual presentation of actual historical truths.
 We believe that the origin of matter and all basic types of living things, including man, came about through direct creative acts of God during the six-day creation week described in Genesis. Whatever biological changes have occurred since the creation week have accomplished only changes within the created kinds.
 We believe that the great flood described in Genesis, commonly referred to as the Noachian Flood, was an historic event, world-wide in extent and effect.
 We accept the account of the special creation of Adam and Eve as the first man and woman. Their subsequent fall into sin, by disobedience of God's direct command, is the basis for our belief in the necessity of a Savior for all mankind.
 Therefore, we believe that Jesus Christ is our Lord and only Savior and that personal faith in Him is necessary for salvation.
