

Faith is Not a Four Letter Word

November 21, 7:30 PM, Totino Fine Arts Room F2128, Univ. of Northwestern, 3003 N Snelling, Roseville

It is a common misconception that skeptics base all their beliefs on "facts", while Christians simply have "faith" which amounts to nothing more than wishful thinking and belief in fairytales... or as Mark Twain stated, "Faith is believing in what you know ain't so!" This presentation shows just how incorrect this view truly is and also powerfully equips Christians to share and defend their faith without having to memorize lots of facts or have degrees in science. It is very encouraging, eye-opening and easy for all to understand.

Jay Seegert is an author & international speaker and is Managing Director of The Starting Point Project. He has degrees in Physics and Engineering and has been lecturing on the authority of Scripture for the past 31 years.

All Meetings are free and open to the public, an offering will be accepted.

Have you considered...

... how the continental margins (continental shelf and continental slope) were made. At the end of Noah's Flood the continents rose causing the flood waters to massively pour off the continents in sheets. These fast moving waters eroded vast amounts of recently laid down sediments. These currents traveled so fast that the sediments were not deposited on land but were deposited when they reached the oceans and the currents slowed, dropping their load.

Continental margins surround all continents and make up some 20 % of the ocean floor; the remainder are the deep ocean basins. The continental margins are made of sedimentary rocks which can be up to 12 miles deep. The continental shelf, the first part of the continental margin, is fairly flat and varies in width from a few miles wide to 600 miles wide! The continental slope averages 430 feet in depth continuing down to 4,900-11,500 feet. The continental margin is a mystery to evolutionists, how could it form with slow and gradual processes? From an evolutionary view point there should be NO continental margins! How were the continual margins made? The rapid runoff during the Genesis Flood formed the continental margins.

"Continental Margins there rapid formation during flood runoff", Michael Oard, Creation 39(4)2017. p. 41-44

TCCSA with your support has helped supply books to 20,000 students in Fiji? Earlier this year Bruce Malone and Carl Baugh delivered 20,000 copies of Inspired Evidence to this island nation. They spoke to 15,000 students and 13,000 made a decision for Christ. Your support made it possible for about 1,000 of those books to be delivered. Dr. Baugh, Bruce Malone and maybe the Von Vett's plan to return in February. Will you help supply more? Please pray that this need will be met soon.

Maybe next year we'll get a Creation Vacation: Fiji.

TCCSA's STATEMENT OF BELIEF

We believe in God: The Father, Son and Holy Spirit. We believe that the Bible is the inspired Word of God, and that all of its assertions are historically and scientifically true in the original autographs; this means that the account of origins in Genesis is a factual presentation of actual historical truths. We believe that the origin of matter and all basic types of living things, including man, came about through direct creative acts of God during the six-day creation week described in Genesis. Whatever biological changes have occurred since the creation week have accomplished only changes within the created kinds. We believe that the great flood described in Genesis, commonly referred to as the Noachian Flood, was an historic event, world-wide in extent and effect. We accept the account of the special creation of Adam and Eve as the first man and woman. Their subsequent fall into sin, by disobedience of God's direct command, is the basis for our belief in the necessity of a Savior for all mankind. Therefore, we believe that Jesus Christ is our Lord and only Savior and that personal faith in Him is necessary for salvation.
