

Alan Love, University of Minnesota, Dept. of Philosophy, Minnesota Center for Philosophy of Science

Reconceiving Science: Beyond Methodological Naturalism

Tuesday, December 4, 2012 7:00 -9:00 PM

John Roach Center Auditorium, JRC126

University of St. Thomas

2115 Summit Ave., St. Paul, MN 55105

Response by Ken Kemp, University of St. Thomas Philosophy Department

Methodological naturalism is the consensus view on how science works. Dr. Alan Love will argue that we need to move beyond methodological naturalism in order to show how the sciences actually operate and to account for their track record of success.

The event is free and open to the public. You are invited to a reception following the talk.

Co sponsored by the University of St. Thomas departments of Theology and Philosophy and the Science and Theology Network

For more information please contact Dr. Philip Rolnick at parolnick@stthomas.edu .

For accommodations regarding accessibility, please contact Enhancement Programs & Disability Services Office at 651-962-6315