Have you considered...

...the difference between grasshoppers and locusts? Nothing, grasshoppers and locust are the same species, the same creature! When scientists varied the environment for the grasshoppers, it changed into locust. This Jekyll/Hyde transformation was amazing! First the behavior changed: the loner grasshoppers started to swarm together. Then in the following generations, physical changes appeared. The grasshopper morphed from large legs, wings and bodies to a locust with smaller legs, wings, and bodies with an increase of 30% in brain size. By changing the environment again, scientists discovered they could reverse the locust back to grasshoppers, all the while the DNA remained the same. DNA has the ability to be expressed differently as the environmental conditions change. A set of switches can turn genes on and off in response to environmental conditions this is called epigenetics and is actually fairly common. Are grasshoppers and locust the same? YES! "What the gnawing locust has left, the swarming locust has eaten; And what the swarming locust has left, the creeping locust has eaten; And what the creeping locust has left, the stripping locust has eaten." ~Joel 1:4

TCCSA's STATEMENT OF BELIEF

We believe in God: The Father, Son and Holy Spirit. We believe that the Bible is the inspired Word of God, and that all of its assertions are historically and scientifically true in the original autographs; this means that the account of origins in Genesis is a factual presentation of actual historical truths. We believe that the origin of matter and all basic types of living things, including man, came about through direct creative acts of God during the six-day creation week described in Genesis. Whatever biological changes have occurred since the creation week have accomplished only changes within the created kinds. We believe that the great flood described in Genesis, commonly referred to as the Noachian Flood, was an historic event, world-wide in extent and effect. We accept the account of the special creation of Adam and Eve as the first man and woman. Their subsequent fall into sin, by disobedience of God's direct command, is the basis for our belief in the necessity of a Savior for all mankind. Therefore, we believe that Jesus Christ is our Lord and only Savior and that personal faith in Him is necessary for salvation.

More TCCSA History

Have you enjoyed the cartoons we use in this publication? The first ones we used including the one below are by Dan Lietha. Dan used to live in Brooklyn Park and worked for a company called Mellow Smello. The company makes the scratch and sniff products kids love to use. Dan moved to KY to work for Answers in Genesis before the museum was built. Many of their publications and talks by AiG speakers use drawings by Dan.

More recently we have included cartoons by Dan Nuckols as well. Dan authored a book on how to draw cartoons and had classes for kids interested in doing it. He has now branched out into making Christian movies.

We don't know if TCCSA had a hand in influencing these two men in some way but we feel privileged to have been given permission to use their work. We thank them for making their work available to us for our enjoyment.

Thank you for your interest in TCCSA and for your support and attendance over the years. If you know of someone we should invite to speak, let us know. We give our speakers an honorarium and if they come from a distance we pay for their travel expenses.
